THE SKY'S
THE LIMIT

FROM BEGINNING...

The Class of '98 honors S. Elizabeth Hill

On October 3, 1997, S. Elizabeth Hill was formally inaugurated as SJC's fifth president.

S. Elizabeth succeeded S. George Aquin O'Connor, who served as president for 28 years.

A tough act to follow!

Diminutive through S. Elizabeth may be, her goals are big and one senses in her the promise of bigger things to come.

As St. Joseph's continues to grow, so will its problems and successes.

From what we've seen so far, S. Elizabeth is ready and capable to take it all on.

Best of luck to her.

THE SKY'S THE Limit

The Sky's The Limit

As the graduates of 1998 prepare to begin their new life outside of Saint Joseph's College, we invite them to reflect upon their time spent here. For starters, some may remember freshman orientation called "Outback". Others may remember the transfer orientation. How can one forget the Homeless Sleepout? Freshman trying to fulfill their community service by participating in the sleepout. They didn't realize what they were in for. Sleeping in a cardboard box, cold weather, the hard ground. A lot was learned that night. What about all the laughs shared at comedy night? Or the free food from Campus Activities Board just because we came back for another tough semester. Or the free food because we survived that semester. Whatever your memories of St. Joe's may be, one thing the graduates have in common is the sense that they can accomplish anything that they put their mind to.

This is due to the liberal arts education you have received at St. Joe's. The school's motto "Esse Non Videre" translated to "TO BE AND NOT TO SEEM" can truly be applied to each one of the graduates. They truly have learned to SOAR Above and Beyond what they were when they first entered the doors of St. Joe's!

Now that the graduates of Saint Joseph's College have completed their education, it is time for them to fly . . . . . THE SKY'S THE LIMIT!!!

SENIOR BRUNCH

On May 17th, 1998 St. Joseph's College held it's tenth annual graduate family brunch at the Bavarian Inn on Lake Ronkonkoma. It was an opportunity for the graduates and their families to come together for one more time before they "sored" into their new lives where THE SKY'S THE LIMIT!

Congratulations

GRADUATION 1998

On May 30, 1998, St. Joseph's College class of 1998 walked across the stage with their diplomas in hand, realizing that the "wings" a St. Joe's education gave them were now ready to take them soaring for, THE SKY'S THE LIMIT!

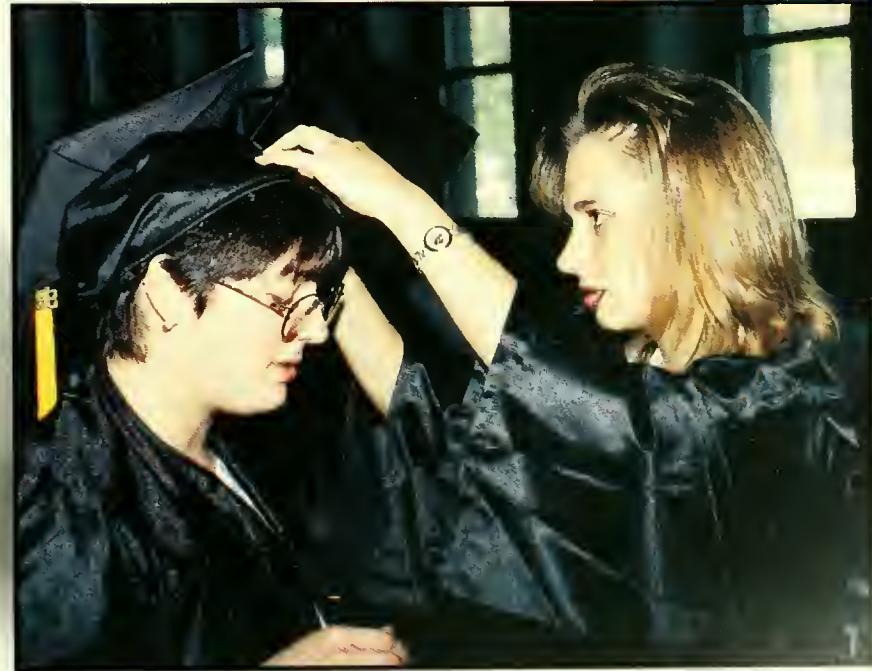

Robert F. Keeler

Congratulations graduates!

Dear Graduates:

Theodore Haecker, German philosopher, once wrote, "Joy untouched by thankfulness is always suspect." You have completed four years of a college education and look forward to a bright future. For your life to be truly fulfilled, however, I encourage you to pause from time to time to consider all you have been given: intelligence, education, opportunity, birth in a nation free and at peace, life itself.

At our Seder celebration we sing a Hebrew song recalling God's loving deeds. The refrain is "It would have been enough," and any one of the God-given gifts I have enumerated, "would have been enough." Thankfulness is truly an appropriate response and a grateful heart the foundation of a happy life.

May yours be a life of gratitude and joy.

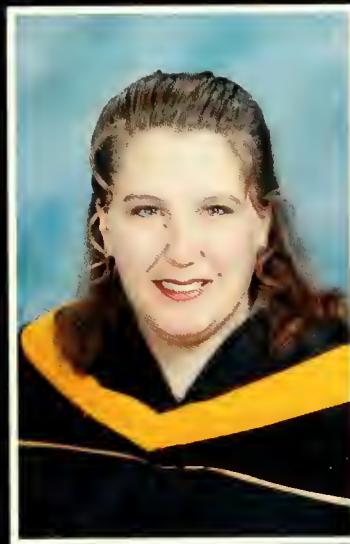

Lovingly,

Sister Loretta McGrann
Academic Dean

CLUBS

Clubs

Clubs at St. Joseph's College are an intricate part of college life. The clubs are all very involved in setting up special events and activities for the college community in addition to being involved in community service, charity fund-raisers and various individual projects. For those dedicated members within the clubs is possible; the sky's the limit.

On November 13th, 1997, St. Joseph's College held its seventh annual Homeless Sleepout. The purpose of this event was not only to raise money for the homeless, but also to raise the awareness in our community about homelessness on Long Island. Together, the psychology club and all those involved raised money by getting people and businesses to sponsor them to sleep outside on the library lawn in cardboard boxes for one night. By doing this, all those involved were able to experience for one night just a fraction of what a homeless person must endure.

BIOLOGY CLUB

The goal of the Biology Club is to involve all the biology majors in activities in which they can enjoy and learn together in a relaxed environment. Some of our activities include annual blood drives and guest speakers. We also promote awareness on the brain and its functions during "Brain Awareness Week", on breast cancer during "Breast Cancer Awareness Month", on smoking during the "Great American Smokeout".

We hold trips to the Poconos and to the Bronx Botanical and Zoological Gardens to gain more knowledge on our environment and other creatures. We will also make a trip to go whale watching for anyone interested in that field. We hold Christmas parties, and end of the year picnics (in which biology majors from both Brooklyn and Suffolk campuses, unite).

The biology club provides the majors a chance to get to know each other and help each other through tutoring. All our activities give the members a chance to learn new and different things, become aware about the many opportunities they can have with a degree in biology, and also have fun while doing so!

It has long been the objective at St. Joseph's College to seek to educate the whole person in an environment which encourages the student to grow through self-direction and responsibility. In keeping with this objective, the administration and the faculty have granted students a high degree of control over extra-curricular affairs and have encouraged students to participate in volunteer service to the college. This spirit of co-operation between student, faculty, and administration provides a total community atmosphere.

The Prism, St. Joseph's College's literary magazine, is published once a year. All entries are submitted by students at St. Joe's. Entries include poetry, short stories, and artwork. Submissions are entered into the Sister Andrea Brown Contest. Two professors, the editor, and assistant editor of the Prism read and judge the submissions. Winners are chosen on the basis of the quality of writing and appeal. All of the winning entries are printed in the magazine.

Sr. Elizabeth A. Hill, C.S.J. '64

On October 3rd, Sister Elizabeth A. Hill, C.S.J., M.A., J.D., was officially invested as president of St. Joseph's College in the inauguration ceremony held at the Brooklyn Museum of Art. The traditional procession of college presidents and delegates, the Board of Trustees and the faculty of St. Joseph's College, colorfully attired in their academic robes began the ceremony, which continued with greetings from students, alumni and faculty. Richard Reeves, noted author and syndicated columnist gave the keynote speech. Richard is the husband of Cathy Vesey O'Neill '64.

Following her investiture by Chair of the Board, Sheila Baird, Sister Elizabeth delivered her inaugural address challenging the College community assembled to join her in "engaging in the dialectic between the past and the future...enabling us to make wise decisions about the present."

Guests in the Iris and B. Gerald Cantor Auditorium at the Museum.

Excerpts from Sister Elizabeth A. Hill's Speech

The beautiful medallion which I have just received from Sister George is weighted with symbolism and heavy with meaning, but it is surely not a burden. It represents the continuity of a prized tradition, which has been handed down from one generation to the next and which today I pledge to safeguard and foster to the best of my ability.

As we look ahead, then, on this day marking another new beginning, we know that we are starting from a good place, and that we have much on which to build. At the same time, we also know that, as the world moves toward a new millennium, humankind is charging very rapidly into new territory, and that there are virtually no maps to help us navigate in this terra incognita. All of these social, political, and economic issues, and the technological developments which enable them to impact us so quickly, are challenging those of us in the academic world to examine everything we are doing.

A Note From The Editors:

There are so many people that we would like to thank for their help with the production of this years yearbook. Without so many of you, this book never would have made it to publication.

First we would like to thank Marion Russo, Tom Wendt, and Marcia Gaudet for all the pictures and their support. We would like to extend a special thank you to Joanne Colleran for her patience. Thank you for not running the other way when we "just have one more question!"

We want to thank Joann in College Relations and the alumni office for their countless pictures of campus events. Our photography staff was very minimal this year and without your help we would have had a very bare book.

We want to thank Ralph Nofi and Ann Hansen for guiding our ad campaign. We also want to thank Kathy Waldron for all of the staff pictures she took for us.

We would like to thank Nicole Herron, Kate Posanti, Phil Vassallo, and Frank Ambrosio from SGA. Without their help we would still be the "homeless" publication. We would also like to thank all of the clubs for their cooperation with the scheduled club pictures. We would also like to say thank you for the pictures you submitted of your events.

We would also like to thank our dedicated staff:

Lisa O'Kane-thank you for your hard work on the ads and all the "financial stuff"! Someone had to do it and thank God you were willing and good at it too!

Melissa Muraca-thank you for your help with the senior section. Thank you so much for coming back after your graduation. Your dedication is greatly appreciated!

Kristi Bigliani-thank you for all of the typing! Especially the theme page! We think it is terrific and we're sure everyone else will too!
